

CPC Group Welcomes Tony Reddeck to the Senior Management Team

Anthony “Tony” Reddeck

Civil Engineering Practice Builder/Senior Project Manager

Tony brings over 20 years of professional services and has been involved in a variety of large-scale land development projects, with extensive experience in managing residential and commercial projects. Project elements include feasibility studies, design and cost analysis, permitting, and construction administration. He has demonstrated his ability to manage large, complex projects with an emphasis on assuring timely completions within the project budget. By working with prospective clients, he prepares a comprehensive scope of services that specifically meets their needs and leads to a successful project outcome. Tony currently lives in Orlando and will be based out of our Central Florida office.
